PRE SCHOOL STUDENTS WORTH APPRECIATING

Someone rightly said that "Children are like flowers; they bloom beautifully when nurtured with love and appreciation."

Appreciating a kindergarten child can be done in several ways. Verbal praise, using specific words like "Great job!" can make a big impact. Small rewards like stickers or a simple reward chart motivate and make them feel proud. Physical gestures like high fives or hugs convey appreciation and warmth. Offering small privileges, like being the line leader, can recognize their good behaviour. Spending quality time with them, listening and engaging in activities they enjoy, shows that you appreciate their uniqueness and efforts.

At VISMA Pre-School, teachers are always appreciating students because it fosters growth and strengthens their bond with them. Celebrating achievements helps create an encouraging and dynamic classroom atmosphere. We congratulate all who got appreciation this time!
